Martin Deehan, Operations Director (North) at Electricity North West will host this event and will be joined by Local Operations Managers and colleagues from Customer, Community and Local Energy, Connections and Investment Planning.

Electricity North West face the challenge of investing and managing a reliable network capable of delivering the UK's ambitious targets for reductions in carbon emissions. New technology is changing the way that companies, communities and customers generate, distribute and use energy.

Adoption of electric vehicles, solar generation and battery storage are allowing people to participate in energy markets in new ways and to share the rewards of this transformation and changing the demands on distribution networks.

This interactive event is an opportunity to discuss what has been achieved, what is planned in the coming years and to seek valuable input from local businesses to help shape future business planning and strategy.

This is your opportunity to contribute - don't miss it!
